5243 Lake Road south — Brockport, NY

This farmstead is owned by Jim Neuffer. One can easily get a sense of how long a person has lived in the town by how they refer to this property. Long time residents still call it the Locke place. It is labeled on the 1887 JB Beers map as the E. Locke Farm. Later it was owned by the Otermans, and the Northrups. June Northrup still owns the majority of the farm. Jim Neuffer bought the house and barns in the early 1990s and has worked hard at preserving and maintaining this property.

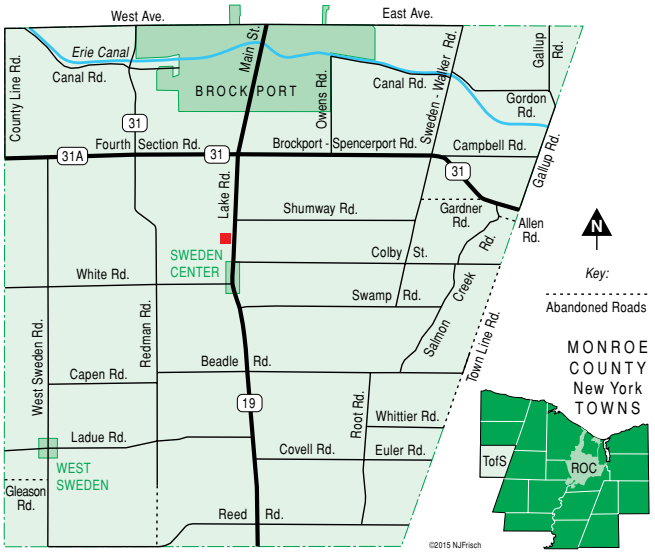

Fig.1

On this property you will be able to walk around both the north and south barns. The north barn, built at grade level, was originally a horse and carriage barn. It has a southern exposed gable entry. This barn has a Gambrell roof shingled with black T-locks. The siding is random width tongue and groove.

The south barn is a ramp barn. It is hand hewn of beech timbers and has matched tongue and groove siding. Look carefully along the east wall and locate the carved stone dated 1873.

Jim is a man of many interests and creative abilities. We are sure you will enjoy taking a "peek" at his replicated general store, gas station and trio of tourist guest cottages.

continued

Acknowledgements:

Text: Christine Hunt with Scott Galliford
Photos: fig.1,2 Al Wahls
Map, photo adjustment and layout: Norman Frisch
Originally seen in: Town of Sweden Bicentennial Barn Tour 2014

5243 Lake Road south — Brockport, NY

Fig.2